

JIM KIDD

The greatest gift the Master gives his students is the gift to empower a desire to be greater than he.
He weaves intricate patterns of optic design that are combined in the balance of symmetrical divine.
The Master focuses on the kaleidoscope of movement.
He touches the multidimensional spheres out in space
that are balanced and fashioned by our horizons.
He encourages the minds of students to cast toward a dream
as they explore their myriads of chances.

So from this day forward . . .

Let us act on our volition
and touch deep down where ideas are born, nurtured and embedded into our mellow soil.
Because we walked a bit of the road together and experienced the Master's inspirational flow.

Mary Marin
7/18/86